MICHAEL GALLANT

short biography

As Senior Editor of Keyboard Magazine, Aurical singer, songwriter, producer, and pianist Michael Gallant interviewed (and often jammed with) artists like Billy Joel, Justin Timberlake, Ben Folds, Tori Amos, Dave Brubeck, will.i.am, and Herbie Hancock, who remarked after one particular collaborative improv, “Man, you can play... You’re just as crazy as I am!”

As a composer, Michael regularly creates scores for live theatre productions in Washington, DC and New York and, in 2011, scored music for the world’s first interactive iPad graphic novel, entitled Operation Ajax. He has played and recorded with a wide variety of groups and is the founder and CEO of Gallant Music, a content and music creation firm based out of New York City.
